I completely and whole heartedly recommend Randy Triplett and Creative for Kids for any themed environments, murals, or other "WOW" type projects that your church has.

My mandate from my Pastor was to make the lobby of our new children's ministry building pop. We wanted the "Wow" effect that would make kids know that this was a place specifically built for them and let parents know that we thought their kids were important. Randy not only met these expectation, he blew past them.

From day 1, Randy and his whole staff were incredibly helpful. From the design, to the renderings, to on-site work, the whole process was completely stress free. Randy was always on time, on budget, and not only did everything he said he would do, he did more.

It was even stress free while he was working. Randy and his staff were friendly and went out of their way to work around everything else that was going on in the new building. They worked great with all the contractors and around all the mess. They actually left the area they worked in cleaner than it was when they walked in the door.

Of course the most amazing thing was their artwork. The murals are incredible. Wow doesn't quite cover Randy's work. The artwork and the characters just seem to pop from the walls. The vibrancy of the colors make the whole room just dance. There are several place where you have to go up and touch to believe that it is only paint.

On top of all that Randy was incredibly helpful in giving advice on other troubled areas. Even though he wasn't going to make any money off it, he gladly told us how we could do some things our selves or go through other local businesses to save money.

I think the one thing I'll never forget happened after Randy had finished but before our opening day. I was showing my daughter and one of her friends from school the new lobby. Her mom met us there and walked into the lobby and just stopped. You could read "Wow" all over her face. She turned to me and said, "You know we've been meaning to start coming to church, I think we'll come visit here." I was floored, the building hadn't even opened yet and God was already using the Creative for Kids murals to draw families to our church!

We've been so impressed with Randy and Creative for Kids that we have already brought him back for Phase 2. When I approached my Pastor with spending more money to touch up some other areas, he immediately gave it the thumbs up when he heard Randy was involved.

I have met lots of people in the creative themeing industry and with out a doubt, I would recommend Randy Triplett over any of them.
